GEORGIA MILESTONES EOC TESTING BEGINS (APRIL 18-25)
EARTH DAY (APRIL 22)

NEW OPENGATE SEARCH SYSTEM TO BE USED WHEN ENTERING THE BUILDING

Seven Best Test-Taking Tips for Success

You have gotten a good night's sleep, eaten a healthy breakfast, arrived early, and done your positive test-day ritual. You are ready to start the test!

Different types of tests require different test taking strategies. You may not want to approach a math test the same way you would an essay test, for example. And some computerized tests such as SATs require you to work through the test in a specific way.

However, there are some general test taking strategies that will improve your chances of getting the grade you want on most, if not all, tests.

1. Listen to the Instructions

Once the test is front of you, it's tempting to block everything out so you can get started right away.

Doing so, however, could cause you to miss out on critical information about the test itself.

The teacher or proctor may offer details about the structure of the test, time limitations, grading techniques, or other items that could impact your approach. They may also point out steps that you are likely to miss or other tips to help improve your chances of success.

So be sure to pay close attention to their instructions before you get started.

2. Read the Entire Test

If possible, look over the entire test quickly before you get started. Doing so will help you understand the structure of the test and identify areas that may need more or less time.

Once you read over the test, you can plan out how you want to approach each section of the test to ensure that you can complete the entire test within the allotted time.

3. Do a "Brain Dump"

For certain types of tests, remembering facts, data, or formulas is key. For these tests, it can be helpful to take a few minutes to write down all the information you need on a scrap paper before you get started.

Putting that important information on paper can relieve stress and help you focus on the test questions without worrying about your ability to recall the facts. And now you have a kind of “cheat sheet” to refer to throughout the test!

4. Answer the Questions You Know First

When possible, do a first pass through the test to answer the “easy” questions or the ones you know right away. When you come to a question that you can’t answer (relatively) quickly, skip it on this first pass.

Don’t rush through this first pass, but do be mindful of time—you’ll want to leave yourself enough time to go back and answer the questions you skipped.

*It’s important to remember that this technique is not possible on some tests. Standardized computer-based tests often do not allow you to skip questions and return to them later. On these types of tests, you will need to work through each problem in order instead of skipping around.

5. Answer the Questions You Skipped

Once you’ve done a first pass, you now have to go back and answer the questions you skipped. In the best case scenario, you might find some of these questions aren’t as challenging as you thought at first. Your mind is warmed up and you are fully engaged and focused at this point in the test. And answering the questions you know easily may have reminded you of the details you need for these questions.

Of course you may still struggle with some of the questions, and that’s okay. Hopefully doing a first pass somewhat quickly allows you to take your time with the more challenging questions.

6. Be Sure the Test is Complete

Once you think you’ve answered all the questions, double check to make sure you didn’t miss any. Check for additional questions on the back of the paper, for instance, or other places that you might have missed or not noticed during your initial read-through.

A common question is whether you should skip questions that you can’t answer. It’s not possible to answer that question in a general sense: it depends on the specific test and the teacher’s rules. It may also depend on the value of each individual question, and whether your teacher gives partial credit.

But, if you’re not penalized for a wrong answer or you are penalized for leaving an answer blank, it is probably better to put something down than nothing.

7. Check Your Work

Finally, if you have time left, go back through the test and check your answers.

Read over short answer and essay questions to check for typos, points you may have missed, or better ways to phrase your answers. If there were multiple components to the question, make sure you answered all of them. Double check your answers on math questions in case you made a small error that impacts the final answer. You don’t want to overthink answers, but a doublecheck can help you find—and correct—obvious mistakes.

Earth Day is an annual celebration that honors the achievements of the environmental movement and raises awareness of the need to protect Earth's natural resources for future generations. Earth Day is celebrated on April 22 in the United States and on either April 22 or the day the spring equinox occurs throughout the rest of the world.

WELLNESS OPPORTUNITY FROM CROSS COUNTRY

Teachers and staff now have another health opportunity. Cross Country conditioning will be going on April 8th through May 24th. Athletes will be running the Couch to 5k program, which is an interval program of running/jogging and walking. It is an extremely beginner friendly program. As is such, Mr. Yabrough would like to extend the invite for any interested staff member who may want to exercise and have company. Program begins after school April 8th and the program is offered every Monday, Wednesday and Friday! Contact Mr. Yabrough if you are interested!

NURSE'S CORNER

Each school year it is required for a parent/guardian to complete the Annual Data Update electronically through the Infinite Campus Parent Portal. This provides us with the most current and accurate contact & health information in case of an emergency for your child as well as permission to administer over-the-counter medications such as Tylenol or Motrin. We are unable to accept parental consent for medication administration over the phone or in writing - it MUST be updated electronically through the Infinite Campus Parent Portal which can be accessed at:

The 7 Habits of Highly Effective People

THE 7 HABITS OF HIGHLY EFFECTIVE PEOPLE

HABIT 7: Sharpen the Saw

Find balance in life; avoid burnout. Strive for continuous improvement of your body, heart, mind, and soul.

HABIT 6: Synergize

Value people's differences, particularly their strengths. Combine your thinking with their thinking to create third alternatives.

HABIT 5: Seek First to Understand, then to be Understood

Diagnose a problem before prescribing a solution. Listen with your ears, eyes, and heart. Present your thoughts clearly.

HABIT 4: Think Win-Win

Have courage to stand up for your needs and wants. Be considerate of others' needs and wants. Seek mutual benefit.

HABIT 3: Put First Things First

Do your most important things first. Have discipline to stick to your goals. Say no to things that distract you from achieving your best.

HABIT 2: Begin with the End in Mind

Know what is most important to you. Think ahead. Set meaningful goals. Have a plan to accomplish them.

HABIT 1: Be Proactive

Accept responsibility for your actions. Be in charge of your moods and choices. Focus on things you can control.

DIGITAL CITIZENSHIP

Be SMART When Using the Internet

Stay safe on the Internet by not sharing personal information or downloading files without permission.

Manage your digital footprint by not oversharing information, because once it is on the Internet you can't get it back.

Act responsibly by standing up to cyber bullies and reporting them to adults.

Respect other people's ideas, thoughts and personal beliefs.

Take regular breaks from technology and the Internet to spend time on other activities and interests.

For more information on Internet safety, go to <https://stavsafte.org/teens/>

A digital citizen is a person who develops the skills and knowledge to effectively use the internet and other digital technology, especially in order to participate responsibly in social and civic activities.

How can I create media balance in my life?

<https://youtu.be/USIHagNfwK4>

How can I keep my private information safe?

<https://youtu.be/RQgX5b5HWmY>

How can I build a digital footprint I'm proud of?

<https://youtu.be/pM7IPgMulHk>

Teach students to conduct data mines (on themselves).

Students should do this every 3-6 months. While many will Google their names, we need to teach them to dig deeper. Here are some general guidelines to follow:

- Log out of internet browsers before searching (staying logged in can affect the results).
- Search (using quotation marks) full legal names, nicknames and usernames.
- Search Google Images with names/usernames.
- Use multiple browsers, such as Chrome, Bing, Yahoo, Safari and Firefox.
- Look beyond the first page of the results. Go at least five pages deep until the name/username no longer appears. Take note of what kind of results appear (presentations/social media/images/etc.).

Stress the importance of digital maintenance.

This is the spelling list or cursive practice of the digital world. It's not glamorous to teach but essential for students to know:

- Remind students to backup Drive files, important emails, smartphone photos/apps/etc. at least once a month.
- Reiterate the importance of logging out of accounts, not simply closing the browser window.

LAPTOP INFORMATION AND CARE

•Students are not allowed to use personal devices at school. All students must use a school issued device during the school to complete assignments. Visit the media center to check out a laptop if you do not have a school issued device.

Remember to bring your charged laptop to school daily and keep up with your charger!

*Always keep your laptop closed when you need to walk with your laptop and it's not in the carrying case.

•Never carry your laptop while open or lift the laptop by the screen/monitor! Handling your laptop in this manner can damage your screen.

•Do not place paper/objects between your keyboard and monitor, it will crack your screen!

•Keep drinks and liquids away from your computer. A spill can damage the hard drive and the motherboard. These type of damages may cost the same price as a new laptop to replace, Please be careful!
