SELF-CARE CORNER BY ELLIE FARRIBA

The way we communicate impacts our wellness. As educators, we possess the incredible power to shape young minds and create a positive learning environment. However, it is essential to remember that taking care of ourselves is just as crucial as caring for others. It is also important to remember to show yourself some loving kindness amid all the challenges and busyness of the month. Today, show some self-compassion and self-care!

Reflect and Appreciate: Take a few moments to reflect on the positive experiences you have had this month. Acknowledge the effort and dedication you put in every day. Allow yourself to enjoy the satisfaction of making a difference.

Pamper Yourself: Treat yourself to something that you enjoy and that brings you joy. Prioritize any activity that rejuvenates your spirit: go for a walk, take a bubble bath, get a massage or a facial, play pickleball...whatever you love to do, just do it! Remember, taking care of yourself is NOT SELFISH but NECESSARY for your WELL-BEING.

Practice Mindfulness: Find moments of stillness and engage in mindfulness exercises. Close your eyes, breathe deeply in and out, and focus on being present. Embrace the calmness that comes with being fully present and allow yourself just "to be".

Connect with Others: Reach out to a fellow teacher who understands the unique challenges you face as an educator. Grab a coffee, exchange ideas, or simply have a meaningful conversation.

Connecting with others who empathize with your journey can provide a sense of support and validation.

Remember, you are doing an incredible job as an educator, and your well-being matters. This week show some loving kindness toward yourself. By doing so, you are replenishing your energy and resilience, which will ultimately benefit you and your students.

TUESDAY, MARCH 26, 2024

LOCATION: MEDIA CENTER

TIME: 2:40PM - 3:15PM

MEDIA CENTER and TECHNOLOGY CORNER

HABIT 3: PUT FIRST THINGS FIRST

Habit 3: Put First Things First is the exercise of independent will toward becoming principle-centered. Habit 3 is the practical fulfillment of Habits 1 and 2. Habit 1 says, "You are the creator. You are in charge." Habit 2 is the first mental creation, based on imagination, the ability to envision what you can become. Habit 3 is the second creation, the physical creation.

This habit is where Habits 1 and 2 come together. It happens day in and day out, moment-by-moment. It deals with many of the questions addressed around time management. But that's not all; habit 3 is about life management as well—your purpose, values, roles, and priorities. What are "first things?" First things are those things you find of most worth. If you put first things first, you are organizing and managing time and events according to the personal priorities you established in Habit 2.

DIGITAL CITIZENSHIP

A digital citizen is a person who develops the skills and knowledge to effectively use the internet and other digital technology, especially in order to participate responsibly in social and civic activities.

How can I create media balance in my life?

https://youtu.be/USIHaqNfwK4

How can I keep my private information safe?

https://youtu.be/RQqX5b5HWmY

How can I build a digital footprint I'm proud of?

https://youtu.be/pM7IPgMulHk

Teach students to conduct data mines (on themselves).

Students should do this every 3-6 months. While many will Google their names, we need to teach them to dig deeper. Here are some general guidelines to follow:

- Log out of internet browsers before searching (staying logged in can affect the results).
- Search (using quotation marks) full legal names, nicknames and usernames.
- Search Google Images with names/usernames.
- Use multiple browsers, such as Chrome, Bing, Yahoo, Safari and Firefox.
- Look beyond the first page of the results. Go at least five pages deep until the name/username no longer appears. Take note of what kind of results appear (presentations/social media/images/etc.).

Stress the importance of digital maintenance.

This is the spelling list or cursive practice of the digital world. It's not glamorous to teach but essential for students to know:

- Remind students to backup Drive files, important emails, smartphone photos/apps/etc. at least once a month.
- Reiterate the importance of logging out of accounts, not simply closing the browser window.

CELEBRATING WOMENS HISTORY MONTH

Each week during the month of March, key Women from the Macon/Middle Georgia area or around the country will be shared by email and in the POP Newsletter. Check your emails each Monday morning. Have a Marvelous Week!

Ruth Hartley Mosley

Ruth Hartley Mosley was born as Ruth Price in Savannah in 1886. According to historians' reports, she received an excellent education in Savannah. Her father was said to be a proud bootmaker who instilled a "legacy of independence and determination" into her.

She became a registered nurse while training in North Carolina and Chicago. When she returned to Georgia, she started working at the State Sanitarium in Milledgeville, later known as the Central State Hospital. There, she became the first black female to head a nursing department, the "Colored Females Department," in 1910. She was only 24 years old.

She married Richard Hartley and become a licensed mortician with her husband in Macon, Georgia. They established the Central City Funeral Home Business. Following her husband's death in 1931, she continued to invest and build her fortune. Six years later, she married Fisher Mosley of New York City. In 1938, she began serving as a nurse with the Health Department and with Bibb County Schools.

Ruth Hartley Mosley rose to social prominence in Macon and when she spoke, people listened. Active in the NAACP, she was a founding board member of the Booker T. Washington Community Center. She owned extensive real estate. In her will, she left a trust to establish an education funds for nursing students, and the Ruth Harley Mosley Women's Center. Today, the building at 626 Spring Street is a community-use facility. It's also a location where her legacy continues as a place to encourage young girls to become nurses and community leaders.
